

Implementation of Registered Exporter System (REX) by Turkey

Effective July 1, 2019 Turkey has implemented the Registered Exporter system for origin certification. Turkey allowed a transition period of Three Months ending September 30, 2019 for the purpose. During the transition period Turkey accepted both Statement of Origin issued by REX registered exporters as well as Certificate of Origin (Form A) issued by the TDAP.

Accordingly, exporters already registered under the REX system of the European Union (EU) may issue Statement of Origin for their exports to Turkey while those not yet part of the REX system are advised to get themselves registered under REX on priority. The TDAP completely stop issuance of the Certificate of Origin (Form A) for Turkey effective October 1, 2019.

Further details regarding procedure for registration of exporters under REX and operational aspects of the REX system covering exports to the EU, Norway, Switzerland, and Turkey under the GSP preferential arrangement are available on this web page under different headings supported by relevant downloadable documents.

As per t h e REX regime of Turkey/EU, where a supplier provides the exporter or the trader with the information necessary to determine the originating status of goods he shall do so by means of a “supplier’s declaration”. A separate supplier’s declaration shall be provided for each consignment of goods (Annex-I) except in cases of long-term supplies where a long-term supplier’s declaration can be provided covering a maximum period of up to 24 months (Annex-II).
